

The latest in flexible benefits

In the competitive employment market of today, attracting and retaining the best staff is vital to the success of any business. Employees look for more than just a base salary.

Spree-flex is a revolutionary new way of enjoying savings on shopping with leading High Street stores BUT without the drawbacks of paper vouchers. Utilising MasterCard Prepay technology, this debit card can be loaded from an employee's salary offering an obvious alternative to current flex voucher options.

Cutting the paper

The new Spree-flex card gives employees the opportunity, via a salary deduction scheme, to load funds to their card rather than order store vouchers. This cuts out the delay and administration associated with current flex voucher programmes.

Employees are free to spend as much, or as little, as they want from their Spree-flex card at any of our retail partners and, most importantly, reap the benefits of a range of discounts on offer. That means more money in the pocket for them and more contented staff for you.
